The Apple family live in New York City but have been spending summers and weekends in Locust Valley for the last 18 years. Being involved in Sunday School, helping with community outreach, working at the St John's Fair, and worshiping at St John's have become part of our family routines. Additionally, Sydney and Annesley were confirmed at St John's last spring. Although a full time mom now, Virginia worked in interior design for 20 years under Brian J McCarthy and David Kleinberg Design Associates, eventually establishing Virginia Apple Design. Now Virginia loves being involved with her children's schools and their community - both in New York and Locust Valley. Virginia graduated from Washington & Lee prior to moving to NY.
